“When Luther finished his stay at the Wartburg, he had completed the translation of the entire New Testament in less than eleven weeks. In March he began the task of revising it, with Melanchthon's help, and Spalatin was also asked to provide appropriate and precise terms. Such terms, however, were not to come from the milieu of the court, but would have to be universally understandable. For example, Spalatin had to get the precious stones mentioned in Revelation 21 from the electoral treasury so they might serve as illustrative material. His knowledge of Greek was also sought. Melanchthon worked at the difficult task of converting and translating the coins mentioned and tried, unfortunately unsuccessful, to provide a map of Palestine as an illustration. Melchior Lotther the Younger printed the work on behalf of Lucas Cranach and Christian Düring, who functioned as publishers of the grand project. At the beginning of July was printed on two presses, and at the end of the month a third was put into service for the Book of Revelation, which was difficult to set in type because of its illustrations. Shortly before 21 September the printing was completed. Just as for all his other writings, Luther asked for no honorarium for the translation, and he received none. The printers and publishers did a good business with the Bible translation. Luther, to his irritation, did not even receive enough free copies.”

Our Seminary Seal

pictures Jesus Christ, the Lamb of God, and can be summarized by the Second Article of the Apostles' Creed and the words of Dr. Martin Luther in his Small Catechism. Jesus is the Lamb of God "who has redeemed me, a lost and condemned creature, purchased and won me from all sins, from death, and from the power of the devil; not with gold or silver, but with His holy, precious blood and with His innocent suffering and death, that I may be His own, and live under Him in His kingdom, and serve Him in everlasting righteousness, innocence, and blessedness, even as He is risen from the dead, lives and reigns to all eternity." (Dr. Martin Luther, Luther's Small Catechism, St. Louis: Concordia Publishing House, 1943, pg. 10).

In the center of the Seal is the Lamb in victory with the cross behind Him. The darkness of sin, death, and the power of the devil are under his feet. He once was dead, but is now alive! The Word became flesh in order to serve as our atoning sacrifice, and the gold surrounding the Lamb and cross symbolizes the righteousness of Christ. As the first woman received her life from the side of the first man Adam, so the Church receives her life from the side of her husband Jesus Christ. The Word made flesh died on the cross, and from his pierced side comes blood and water to give life to his bride. The blood flows from his body into the cup, and the cup of blessing that we bless is the communion of the blood of Christ, and the bread that we break is the communion of the body of Christ. Not only do we behold in Scripture blood from his side, but also water. And so, there is a blue circle surrounding the Lamb to remind us of the new creation. As the Holy Spirit used the vehicle of water for the first creation that ultimately fell into sin, we are now made into a new creation by water and the Holy Spirit. This washing away of sins is for the whole world. In distinction with those who demand signs from God or who look for worldly wisdom, "we preach Christ having been crucified" as it says in 1 Corinthians 1:23. Jesus Christ is the gold Sun of everlasting truth. He is light that reveals all things, and it is by Divine Intelligence that Walther Theological Seminary knows what it knows and passes it on to ministers and laity. He is the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End, the fulfillment of time. All the particulars of time are about Him, and must serve Him and His Church forever. Amen.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to Walther Theological Seminary!

While hiding at the Wartburg castle in March of 1522, Luther wrote to a German knight by the name of Hartmut von Cronberg: “I have undertaken to translate the Bible in to German. This was good for me; otherwise I might have died in the mistaken notion that I was a learned fellow. All those who think that they are learned ought to do some such work (Ewald M. Plass, What Luther Says, St. Louis: Concordia, 1959, pg. 105).”

The neat thing about Luther’s self-deprecating joke was that it indicated a real humility. Ask those who aspire to translate the Scripture from the original languages and they will, more often than not, confess how unintelligent they feel. In fact, one might consider being cautious of the one who thinks that translating is easy. It is cleansing for the soul to pursue it while confronting and acknowledging one’s limitations, and it enriches the prayer life of both teachers and students alike.

Luther was not the first person to translate the Bible, nor was he the first to translate it into the German language. He was, however, as far as we know, the first to translate the Bible with a real focus on making sure that the original sense was accessible to the common people. This he did out his love for his Savior Jesus Christ. This he did so that all would know the truth of the gospel. This is our love and what we strive for at Walther Theological Seminary.

Philip Schaff writes in his History of the Christian Church: “The richest fruit of Luther's leisure in the Wartburg, and the most important and useful work of his whole life, is the translation of the New Testament, by which he brought the teaching and example of Christ and the Apostles to the mind and heart of the Germans in life-like reproduction. It was a republication of the gospel. He made the Bible the people's book in church, school, and house. If he had done nothing else, he would be one of the greatest benefactors of the German-speaking race (Vol VII, pg. 341).”

The heart and center of the word is Jesus. It says in 1 Peter 1:25, “the word of the Lord remains forever. And this word is the good news we preached to you.” Our celebration of Luther’s translation of the Bible is more than a celebration, it is a dedication of our whole life to making sure that all nations know the good news of forgiveness in the cross of our Savior Jesus Christ.

May the Lord grant us the strength to continue to do the task of making the gospel accessible to all. May we, by God’s undeserved kindness, continue to train many to preach Christ crucified that those who living in darkness may know the truth and be set free!

Yours, a servant of Christ,

Pastor Brock Abbott

History

C. F. W. Walther once said: “After God has graciously restored the precious treasure of pure doctrine to the church through Luther and his faithful followers, we must now either humbly permit this treasure to be transmitted to us through their service or we shall remain eternally deprived of it and fall from one error into another.” (C. F. W. Walther, Editorials from “Lehre und Wehre,” translated by Herbert J. A. Bouman, St. Louis: Concordia Publishing House, 1981, pg. 107).

Often called “the American Luther,” because he tenaciously held to Martin Luther’s clear and insightful exposition of the Scriptures, Walther was instrumental in forming the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod (LCMS) in 1847. Since his time, many have faithfully followed, while others have not. Walther Theological Seminary (WTS) embraces the theology of C. F. W. Walther, which was the theology of Martin Luther, and is ultimately derived from the Scripture itself.

Established in 2010, WTS continues to preserve what has been handed down and seeks to transmit the treasure to laity and those who desire to be pastors. From the Altenburg debate in 1841 to this very day, we remain on the same page with Walther.

Being named after C. F. W. Walther, this Seminary embraces his theology which was the theology of Luther, and derived from the Bible itself.

Martin Luther once said in the Treatise on the Power and Primacy of the Pope: “In 1 Cor. 3, 6, Paul makes ministers equal, and teaches that the Church is above the ministers. Hence superiority or lordship over the Church or the rest of the ministers is not ascribed to Peter [in preference to other apostles]. For he says thus: All things are yours, whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas” (W. H. T. Dau and F. Bente, Concordia Triglotta, St. Louis: Concordia Publishing House, 1921, pg. 507).

Yes, the Gospel treasures earned for us by Christ belong to the church, the priesthood of all believers. “All things are yours!” Luther understood this, and it is with that understanding that we embrace these words about Jesus in the fourth chapter of Ephesians, “When he ascended on high he led a host of captives, and he gave gifts to men.” These gifts are those who have been divinely called to the one Gospel ministry as stewards of the Gospel treasures of Christ. This history takes us then to the heart of why WTS is here and its mission. It is all about the Gospel, the good news that Christ has lived a perfect life for us, and he has suffered and died for our sins.

The administration and teaching staff of WTS desires that the Theology of Christ, the apostles, Walther and Luther continues to be taught to future pastors of Evangelical Lutheran churches. One such church that has taken the bold step of making that teaching task a reality is Pilgrim Lutheran Church of Decatur, IL. In 2004, the members of Pilgrim, voted to leave the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod over doctrinal reasons in order to become an independent Lutheran congregation.

Pilgrim Lutheran Church, Decatur, Illinois

A year later, Pilgrim co-founded the United Lutheran Mission Association, a not for profit corporation that directs the resources of existing Lutheran congregations in order to establish new independent Lutheran congregations throughout the United States.

As Pilgrim looked to its own future and the future of the association, it realized the need for training pastors and missionaries. Late in 2009, at the direction of Pilgrim Church Council, legal counsel was sought to determine what would be required in order to properly establish a seminary that would be recognized as credible, and would afford its graduates degrees that would be considered legitimate, and to determine the estimated parameters in terms of time and cost. The resulting legal work, Preliminary Considerations Involved In Establishing a Lutheran Seminary In Illinois, was submitted to Pilgrim Church Council which, after reviewing the document, appointed a Seminary Exploratory Committee to further review the document and do additional research to determine the feasibility of a seminary at Pilgrim. Once Pilgrim's Council and Elders decided that it was feasible, a number of "Informational Meetings" were held at Pilgrim. At the direction of the Voters of Pilgrim, Walther Theological Seminary was organized as a not-for-profit corporation in 2010.

On August 7, 2012, the Illinois Board of Higher Education granted to Walther Theological Seminary the Certificate of Approval and Authorization to operate in the Prairie Region of the State of Illinois, and on June 4, 2013, degree granting authority.

On August 27, 2016, WTS awarded the Master of Divinity degree to its first graduate.

While WTS is its own entity, it is “owned and operated” by Pilgrim. It would be impossible for Pilgrim to support the Seminary without the help of the member and mission congregations of the United Lutheran Mission Association. With Pilgrim, those congregations are:

Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church, Jackson, Michigan

Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, Forsyth, Illinois

Revelation 3:8 “I KNOW YOUR WORKS. BEHOLD, I HAVE SET BEFORE YOU AN OPEN DOOR, WHICH NO ONE IS ABLE TO SHUT. I KNOW THAT YOU HAVE BUT LITTLE POWER, AND YET YOU HAVE KEPT MY WORD AND HAVE NOT DENIED MY NAME.” We don’t believe the size of the organization is as important as the quality and faithfulness of the education and content presented. This sentiment is expressed by the 20th century Lutheran historian F. Bente:

“The Lutheran Church differs from all other churches in being essentially the Church of the pure Word and unadulterated Sacraments. Not the great number of her adherents, not her organizations, not her charitable and other institutions, not her beautiful customs and liturgical forms, etc., but the precious truths confessed by her symbols in perfect agreement with the Holy Scriptures constitute the true beauty and rich treasures of our Church, as well as the never-failing source of her vitality and power.

Wherever the Lutheran Church ignored her symbols or rejected all or some of them, there she always fell an easy prey to her enemies. But wherever she held fast to her God-given crown, esteemed and studied her confessions, and actually made them a norm and standard of her entire life and practice, there the Lutheran Church flourished and confounded all her enemies.

Accordingly, if Lutherans truly love their Church, and desire and seek her welfare, they must be faithful to her confessions and constantly be on their guard lest any one rob her of her treasure . . .”

(F. Bente, July 4, 1921, from the Preface to the Concordia Triglotta, St. Louis: Concordia, pg. IV)

MISSION STATEMENT

Walther Theological Seminary is a Lutheran institution dedicated primarily to the training of pastors and missionaries. Secondly, the Seminary offers proficiency in Lutheran theology to laity and professional church workers.

Primary Purpose

Behind the various terms in the New Testament and their nuances (Eph. 4:11), there is the one Gospel-ministry which is confessed to be divinely instituted in Article V of the Augsburg Confession, “God instituted the office of the ministry.” It says in the Apology of the Augsburg Confession (Article XIII.11) that “the ministry of the Word has God’s command and glorious promises.” In the next paragraph (Article XIII.12) it says that “the church has the command to appoint ministers; to this we must subscribe wholeheartedly, for we know that God approves this ministry and is present in it.” In 2 Timothy 2:2, Paul writes to Pastor Timothy: “And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses, entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others.” F. Pieper comments in Christian Dogmatics (I:43): “Timothy performed the work of theological professor when he committed the things he had learned from the apostle Paul ‘to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also’ (2 Tim. 2:2).” Walther Theological Seminary is a formal institution by which pastors entrust the faith to reliable men that the church may appoint them by the command of God to the one-Gospel ministry.

Objectives

Walther Theological Seminary is a Lutheran institution dedicated primarily to the training of men to be divinely called “stewards of the mysteries of God (1 Cor. 4:1).” With this in mind, the Seminary’s objectives are to make certain that its graduates:

- Have a thorough understanding of the whole Bible, believing without reservation that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments are the verbally inspired, inerrant, infallible written Word of God and the only rule and norm of faith and practice.
- Know the original languages and interpret the Bible with sound principles of Biblical interpretation and dividing the Word of God rightly into Law and Gospel.
- Learn the faith, the body of doctrine, once and for all entrusted to the saints and be able to contend for it (Jude 3).
- Have a thorough understanding of all the symbolical books of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, contained in the Book of Concord of 1580, and subscribe (quia) to them because they are a correct exposition of the Bible.

- Shall acknowledge that the history of doctrine is not “a work in progress,” but it is the apostolic faith as it has been received and/or rejected in time. It says in 1 Peter 1:24-25, “All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of the grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever.”
- Are able to demolish all arguments which set themselves up against the faith such as Heterodox Christianity, World Religions and Cults, and Secular Philosophy. Paul writes in 1 Corinthians 10:5, “We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ.”
- Shall be “able to teach (1 Tim. 3:2).” This means that he will be able to take the truths of God’s Holy Word and make them clear to all those entrusted to him by God. He will strive to be an excellent preacher and teacher so as to not be an obstacle to God’s Word.
- Develop personal study skills, moral character, care of family and self-care (1 Timothy 3:5).
- Acquire the necessary skills for shepherding the flock, counseling, supervision, administration, and implementing evangelism and mission work in the local congregation.
- Learn the meaning of Jude 20-23, “But you, dear friends, build yourselves up in your most holy faith and pray in the Holy Spirit. Keep yourselves in God’s love as you wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to bring you to eternal life. Be merciful to those who doubt; snatch others from the fire and save them; to others show mercy, mixed with fear - hating even the clothing stained by corrupted flesh.”
- Learn above all the article of justification by grace through faith, the article by which the church stands or falls (Ephesians 2:8-9).

Secondary Purpose

Christ has entrusted the Gospel treasures to his beloved, the church. She possesses the keys to the Kingdom of heaven itself and has access to everything in God’s house. Luther reminds Christian laity in his Open Letter to the Christian Nobility (LW 44, 127) that it is a falsehood to assume that there is a “spiritual estate” of clergy with special rights and powers, above all believers, since “all Christians are truly of the spiritual estate.” The church, the priesthood of all believers, the laity, stands connected to the Word of God and is bid to remain and grow and live in Christ’s Word. Her main task is handling that Word of God privately and publicly through called ministers. The church also retains the liberty to create and dissolve Auxiliary Offices that are designed to support the pastoral office. As it says in Acts 5:2-4, “And the twelve summoned the full number of the disciples and said, ‘It is not right that we should give up preaching the Word of God to serve tables. Therefore, brothers, pick out from among you seven men of good repute, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we will appoint to this duty. But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the Word.’” Since it is vital for laity and professional church workers to know and adhere to the Word of God in order to carry out their vocations faithfully, the secondary purpose is to assist with that endeavor.

Objectives

With this in mind, Walther Theological Seminary offers to laity and professional church workers an opportunity to gain proficiency in Lutheran theology.

The student will:

- Gain an expanded knowledge of Holy Scripture.
- Learn how the Holy Scripture has been believed or resisted in History.
- Understand systematically the doctrine taught in Holy Scripture.
- Understand the proper distinction between Law and Gospel.
- Have a reading knowledge of the Greek and Hebrew languages.
- Have an expanded knowledge of the Lutheran Confessions, a correct exposition of Scriptural doctrine, and also of pertinent writings of Church Fathers.
- Learn above all the article of justification by grace through faith, the article by which the church stands or falls.

All courses at the Seminary are carried out in light of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. This Seminary accepts and acknowledges all Canonical Books of the Old and New Testament without reservation as the verbally inspired, inerrant, infallible written Word of God and the only rule and norm of faith and practice. The Seminary also accepts and acknowledges all the Symbolical books of the Evangelical Lutheran Church contained in the Book of Concord of 1580 as a true and unadulterated statement and exposition of the Word of God. To accomplish its mission, the Seminary offers courses in Exegetical, Systematic, Historical, and Pastoral Theology. For the Master of Divinity Student, the Seminary also offers Field Education.

The school year is divided into four quarters: Fall, Winter, Spring, and Summer. Each quarter is 10 weeks in length. The Summer Intensive, which actually follows the Summer Quarter, is a three week intensive for entry-level courses only. While the Summer Quarter is currently devoted to entry-level courses, a student who has completed all entry-level courses may take an independent study course during this 10-week quarter. However, a student may not take an independent study course during the three-week Summer Intensive.

Onsite and Online Learning

The Curriculum and Instruction of the Master of Divinity degree program and Master of Arts in Theology is a combination of onsite and learning through video conferencing. Every student is required to physically attend the Seminary in Decatur, Illinois. Many courses are offered by a traditional delivery system that consists of an onsite Professor and classroom. Since we have professors in other states, these professors teach their courses through live video conferencing that makes provision for real time student/professor interfacing. The video conferencing takes place in the facility of the Seminary according to the schedule of the Seminary. The Seminary's learning management system will facilitate the communication of material and social interfacing between professor and student.

Four-year Cycle

The Seminary operates on a four-year cycle of set courses. This is very important to understand because it makes it difficult for a Master of Divinity student to drop out for more than a quarter and resume his studies. If a Master of Divinity student drops out for a quarter, he may be able to make up an entire quarter through Independent study, keeping in mind that his degree program is limited to a maximum of 18 hours of Independent study.

Academic and Attendance Records

The Student receives quarter grades which are recorded on his transcript. Transcripts are kept by the Seminary and are available to the students upon request. Instructors are responsible for keeping attendance records in his classes and making them available to the Vice-President of Academic Affairs. Erratic attendance is cause for dismissal from the Seminary. If a student misses more than 20% of the scheduled hours in a given course, that student may lose all credit for the course.

A Student receiving an "I" on his grade report must complete the required work in 30 days, or the "Incomplete" becomes an "F." A student in good standing has at least a cumulative GPA of 2.25 on a 4.0 scale. When a student falls under a cumulative 2.25 GPA, the student will be placed on academic probation for the next quarter and will meet with the Vice President of Academic Affairs who will either assist the student or assign a faculty member to assist the student. At the end of the quarter, the student's progress will be evaluated, and the student will be granted continuation or will be dismissed from the Seminary.

Dismissal and Reentry

A student may be dismissed from the Seminary for various reasons. These include unsatisfactory work, conduct that is not in keeping with the decorum of a Lutheran Seminary, any illegal activity, or other valid reasons. For students in the Master of Divinity degree program, there may be reasons which make it impossible for the Seminary administration to certify that a student is ready for the office of the public ministry. If a student wishes to reenter the Seminary, such a student is required to wait at least one year before reapplying.

Certified Transcripts

Certified Transcripts from Walther Theological Seminary are available only upon the written request of a student. Requests should be made at least three weeks in advance of the date they are needed and must include the name and address of the institution or agency. The first transcript is furnished without charge. Each additional request must be accompanied by a payment of $20.00. Under no circumstances will a certified transcript be issued at the request of a third party.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

Master of Divinity (M. Div.)

Purpose

The Master of Divinity degree program is especially designed to equip qualified males who desire to be ordained into the ministry of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. Designed to thoroughly prepare men to be ordained ministers, there is a balance between scholarship and practical application. Not only will the student be equipped theologically, but he will be highly trained to be an excellent preacher and teacher of the Word, administering the Sacraments rightly, and trained to relate the means of grace to people in everyday life.

College and University Preparation

Future applicants are strongly encouraged to attend a college or university where Biblical Greek and Hebrew are offered. A student will also benefit from being able to read theological Latin and German. While Walther Theological Seminary accepts applicants who have received degrees in many fields of study, preparation for the M. Div. program should include courses in critical thinking, religion, philosophy, history, psychology, education, literature, composition, and speech communication. The Seminary discourages students from taking religion and theology courses from institutions that do not believe that the Bible is the verbally inspired, inerrant, infallible Word of God and the only rule and norm of faith and practice. The Seminary encourages students to be judicious in religion and theology courses from institutions where the Word of God is not taught in its truth and purity and the sacraments are not understood according to the teaching of Christ.

Non-Discriminatory Policy

It is the policy of the Seminary not to discriminate against a person because of race, color, age, sex, or national or ethnic origin either in the matter of admissions, programs, scholarships, or employment. The Seminary shall not admit or enroll women into any divinity program, in accordance with the dictate of Scripture (1 Timothy 2:12). Women may be admitted and enrolled in the Master of Arts in Theology degree program.

Admission Requirements

The Holy Spirit says in 1 Timothy 3:1-7, “The saying is trustworthy: If anyone aspires to the office of overseer, he desires a noble task. Therefore an overseer must be above reproach, the husband of one wife, sober-minded, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not a drunkard, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own household well, with all dignity keeping his children submissive, for if someone does not know how to manage his own household, how will he care for God’s church? He must not be a recent convert, or he may become puffed up with conceit and fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover, he must be well thought of by outsiders, so that he may not fall into disgrace, into a snare of the devil.”

Ordinarily, a male who wishes to enroll in the Master of Divinity degree program must have a bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university with a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.25 (on a 4.00 scale). He must be a member in good standing of an orthodox Lutheran church for at least three years. If married, his wife must also be a member of the same church and supportive of his application. She must also be supportive of his desire to be a pastor in the Evangelical Lutheran church.

Admission Procedure

The applicant shall submit the following documents for the Master of Divinity program of study to Walther Theological Seminary, 2155 N. Oakland Ave., Decatur, IL, 62526:

1. Completed Admission Form.
2. Official transcripts from college/university or previous theological seminary.

4. Authorization form to conduct a background check.
5. Letter of recommendation from pastor of home congregation.
6. Letter of recommendation from a lay leader of home congregation.
7. Application fee of $50.00.

An application will not be considered complete until all seven items have been received. The application deadline is the last day of March. A Preliminary Application for Admission to Walther Theological Seminary is found at the back of this catalog or may be filled out online at www.waltherseminary.org

Entry-Level Competencies

All students admitted to the M. Div. program must demonstrate competency in Biblical history and content, Christian doctrine, Biblical Greek, and Biblical Hebrew. This competency will be determined by undergraduate/graduate work, passing Entry-Level Competency Tests, or by passing the necessary entry-level courses at the Seminary. Those entry-level courses are Biblical History and Content, Christian Doctrine, Elementary Greek and Greek Review, and Elementary Hebrew I and II. Only Elementary Hebrew I and II can be taken with other M. Div. courses in the Fall and Winter quarters of a student's first year. A student may not take an Old Testament book of the Bible until they have successfully completed Elementary Hebrew I and II. All other entry-level courses must be taken in the summer. A student may take any Entry-Level Competency Test twice and must pass at least two weeks before the Summer Quarter. If he fails twice, he must enroll in the corresponding entry-level course. A student may take any entry-level course twice, but if he fails twice, he will be dismissed.

Exceptions to Admission Requirements

Non-Degree Applicants

In special circumstances, the Seminary may choose applicants without a bachelor's degree to be admitted as non-degree students for the Master of Divinity degree program. He will cease to be on academic probation if his GPA is 2.25 or greater at the end of the Fall Quarter. If the student has a GPA lower than 2.25, he will be dismissed. Elementary Greek and Greek Readings will not be included in the Fall Quarter GPA evaluation.

Transfer Applicants

Students from other theological seminaries who wish to transfer to Walther Theological Seminary will be subject to a transcript evaluation to determine what credits are transferable. Any course where the student has acquired a grade lower than 2.0 will not be transferable. An M. Div. student is required to complete 94 hours of course work or 60% of the program in residency.

Degree Requirements

The time limit for the completion of the Master of Divinity is normally six academic years. However, under special circumstances, such as a student who is a second-career student who is going to school while working, this time can be extended by the Board of Trustees under the recommendation of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. It is a set program with no electives. The student must pass all the courses with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.25 (on a 4.0 scale). In the case of a student failing a course, he will have to make it up through Independent Study and will only have one chance to do so. If he fails a course twice, he will be dismissed.

Independent Study

Independent Study courses are requested through the Vice President of Academic Affairs. A copy of the application may be picked up through the Bursar. A student may not exceed 18 credit hours of Independent Study for the Master of Divinity degree program. Field Education

While the Seminary does not require a vicarage (full year internship), it does require extensive field education. All that would have been covered in a vicarage will be covered over four years as the student will be trained by pastors in the field. Field education will include training in, but not be limited to, preaching, leading the Divine Service, teaching Sunday School, adult Bible classes, Midweek School, Junior Confirmation, Vacation Bible School, attending various board and voters meetings, hospital and shut-in calls, Evangelism work, Youth, Funerals and Weddings. Whatever pertains to the life of the congregation, the student will be given opportunity to observe and participate. The student's field work supervisor will make certain to balance field education with class work.

Tuition

Currently, no tuition will be charged for a student in the M. Div. program of study. This has been made possible by the generous donations of those who support Walther Theological Seminary and the work of God's kingdom.

Auditing

Any Master of Divinity course may be audited by filling out the appropriate application with the application fee of $50 and paying the $200 audit fee per class through the Bursar. If there are no full or part time students attending a class, the class will be cancelled and the $200 audit fee will be refunded.

Certification and Placement

Entering into the Seminary to become a pastor is like what God said to Abraham in Genesis 12:1, "Leave your country, your people and your father's household and go to the land I will show you." The words of Hebrews 11:8 where it says are also most appropriate, "By faith Abraham, when called to go to a place he would later receive as his inheritance, obeyed and went, even though he did not know where he was going."

At the beginning of entering the Seminary, the student will enter into a "Certification Process" in order to potentially become a candidate to receive a call. While Walther Theological Seminary cannot guarantee certification and placement, the student lives by faith that God will take care of him and will provide as He sees fit.

Certification into the Lutheran ministry requires the successful completion of the M. Div. degree program. However, the successful completion of the M. Div. degree program does not guarantee certification and placement.

Unlike most professions, the ministry derives its reason for existence and its description from an authority above that of man himself and his society. We look to God's Word in the Holy Scripture for most of our criteria regarding the ministry (1 Timothy 3:1-7 and Titus 1:6-9). That which is outside of the Holy Scripture is designed to serve the criteria of Holy Scripture. A man in the ministry is serving the Lord and his people. For purposes of specification and assessment, we have arbitrarily defined three sets of criteria to be used by student, faculty, and board. They are: Theological Development, Ministerial Functions, and Personal Qualities.

These are our methods of assessment: 1) Background Check, 2) Academic Work, 3) Field Education, 4) Ministerial Functions Survey, 5) Personal Qualities Survey, and 6) Formation Tools. If you wish to know more details, we would be glad to discuss with you our "Certification Process."

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Course Descriptions are understood according to the following table:

EL	Entry-Level Course
E	Exegetical Theology
S	Systematic Theology
H	Historical Theology
P	Pastoral Theology
FE	Field Education
MT	Master's Thesis

300-499 courses are for the M. Div. program of study.

300-399 courses are for the M. A. program of study.

What is a credit hour? 1 hour of in-class time + 2 hours of study outside of class = 1 credit hour. For every hour of teacher/student interfacing, the student is expected to work approximately an additional 2 hours. For example, if a course is labeled “3 hours,” then the student will interface with the teacher three hours a week, and will be expected to work approximately 6 hours outside of class. For the Master of Divinity degree program, this formula does not apply to Field Education, and it does not apply to the Master's Thesis in the Master of Arts degree program. The credit hours for these are merely to account for successful completion.

ENTRY-LEVEL COURSES

A student cannot take any additional courses when taking this one.

EL 101 Greek Review 3 hours

This course is designed to review the harder sections of Elementary Greek in preparation for studying the New Testament books of the Bible and Greek Readings I. It is a 3-week summer intensive course specifically designed to help the student retain what has been already learned.

Phonology and morphology are stressed with beginning reference to syntax.

EL 111 Elementary Hebrew II 3 hours

This course is designed to complete what was started in Elementary Hebrew I. The goal is to learn Hebrew grammar in a thorough manner so that the student will better read, understand, and communicate the Old Testament Word of God. EL 150 Biblical History and Content 5 hours

A basic understanding of Old and New Testament Biblical history and content is essential to prepare a student for courses in exegetical and historical theology. It is a 3-week summer intensive course.

DEPARTMENT OF EXEGETICAL THEOLOGY

The study of any book of the Bible will include matters of Isagogics and will encompass the structure of the book, date and authorship, historical context, noteworthy additions, and content. Special attention will be given to portions that are used in the liturgy and readings of the church, controversial texts, difficult passages, and those passages which serve as a seat of doctrine. The student will be required to translate whole and selected portions of the books of the Bible and the instructor will provide valuable textual notes, commentary, and guidance on how to study the Bible and relate it to God's people. The question of exegetical theology is this: "What has God said?" Exegetical theology aims at interpreting the Word of God recorded in human languages and we heed the warning against "quarreling about words" in 2 Timothy 2:14. We also humbly consider what Jesus says, "He who does not love me will not obey my teaching. These words you hear are not my own; they belong to the Father who sent me (John 14:24)."

E 300 Law I 3 hours

The Book of Genesis is a crucial book to understand in the Old Testament. The student will study important passages such as the Creation, the fall into sin, the consequences of the fall, the promise of a Savior, the flood, and the patriarchs.

E 301 Law II 3 hours

The books of Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy will be studied. Special emphasis will be given to Exodus and the sacrificial system of Leviticus and the theme of redemption and covenant. Attention will be given to the life of Moses as a type of Christ and the Mosaic Law.

DEPARTMENT OF SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY

Jesus says in John 5:39, "These are the Scriptures that testify about Me" and when Jesus walked with the disciples on the road to Emmaus Luke writes, "And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself (24:27)." Since the truths of the Bible are one, the objective of systematic theology is to put in order all that the Scripture teaches about Christ that we may cling to Him and "demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God (2 Cor. 10:4-5)." We take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ while always keeping in mind the words of Christ in John 10:35, "the Scripture cannot be broken."

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORICAL THEOLOGY

It says in Galatians 4:4 that "In the fullness of time, God sent his Son, born of a woman, born under law, to redeem those under law, that we might receive the full rights of sons." Historical theology holds to the fact that time is about Christ and how he is either believed or resisted as time marches on. As the child of God peruses and lives history, he does so standing in Christ and firmly believes that "the gates of hell will not prevail (Matt. 16:18)" against him and the people of God since Jesus sits at the right hand of the Father and is working all things for the glory of his people (Rom. 8:28). The church will conquer with Him who conquered sin, death, and the devil.

DEPARTMENT OF PASTORAL THEOLOGY

Pastoral theology is theology as Jesus applies it to his flock through the office of the ministry. The Chief Shepherd has given us the command to “be shepherds of God’s flock (1 Pet. 5:1-4)” and we learn to be shepherds in Christ who “will not cry out, or raise his voice in the streets. A bruised reed he will not break, and a smoldering wick he will not snuff out. In faithfulness he will bring forth justice; he will not falter or be discouraged till he establishes justice on earth. In his law the islands will put their hope (Isaiah 42:2-4).” Jesus is the example, and pastoral theology is the art of applying God’s Word that the islands might hope.
